Introduction Very good, the introduction provides an overview of the instructional unit.	Great!
Expert Review Good job! The expert review includes three paragraph summation of the professional review by an SME, and reactions to the instructional materials. However, you have to add more information about the SME; for example where she works and what is her role as an expert. Good Job, You provided a chart where we can clearly understand the steps, the SME comments, and your response.	Thank You! Yes I understand, I will add more information about the SME. Good thing you pointed that out.
One-to-One Evaluation The one-to-one evaluation includes a brief description of the student reviewer (in generic terms including pertinent learning characteristics) and the location where the review will be conducted. The plan also includes a brief synopsis of your findings. The plan and synopsis should be no more than two pages in length. The one-to-one evaluation is review is well-written, well-planned, and executed Excellent Job, I see some good information and good revisions the learner suggested.	Great, thank you!

Small Group Evaluation The small group evaluation includes 2-3 learners from the target population. The plan determines the effectiveness of changes made following the one-to-one evaluation and identifies any remaining learning problems students may have as well as determine if learners can use the instruction without instructor interaction. The plan describes what revisions are necessary. The Small group evaluation is well-written, well-planned, and executed.	Thank You! It was hard to schedule a day for all the 3 teachers because they all were out on vacations. But I'm so glad we made it and were able to perform the small group evaluation.

Oh wow, I almost forgot about the conclusion. Thanks a lot for letting me know about that. I will add it as soon as possible.
Mechanics You have some grammatical, or punctuation errors. Make sure you fix these before you submit it. Especially at the one to one evaluation chart.	Ok, I will check on that.
